Ghars Bilingual School Homework Packet- Grade 5

	GRAMMAR: This, That, These, and Those (pg. 341) This, That, These, and Those This, that, these, and those are demonstrative pronouns. They demonstrate the position of an object. This and these refer to things that are nearby. That and those refer to things that are at a distance. These pronouns have singular and plural forms. This and that are used to indicate single objects, and these and those indicate multiple objects. Comparative, superlative adjectives (pg. 352) A comparative adjective is used to compare two people, places, things, or groups. Add –er to most adjectives to make them comparative. For example: Ben is faster than Ellen. A superlative adjective is used to compare three or more people, places, things, or groups. Add –est to most adjectives to make them superlative. For example: Alice is the fastest sprinter on the team. Remember that there is no need to combine the word more with comparative or superlative adjectives in your writing.
